Ellison, A. M., and E. J. Farnsworth. 2005. The cost of carnivory for Darlingtonia californica (Sarraceniaceae): evidence from relationships among leaf traits. American Journal of Botany 92: 1085-1093.

In the paper, we reported chlorophyll concentration as mg/g (p. 1088, column 2; and Figure 2E), but the values shown are actually in mg/m². To obtain mg/g, the values must be divided by the leaf mass ratio. This typographical error has no qualitative impact on the conclusions of the study.
